Dr. Morgan Guides His Audiences through Dentistry's New Frontiers

Often referred to by his colleagues as “the Michelangelo of dentistry,” Dr. Michael Morgan is equal parts artist, pioneer, and guide. After dental school, Dr. Morgan embraced the challenging field of direct composite restorations and aesthetic dentistry. While studying in Switzerland under the tutelage of the world’s most skilled dental artists, Dr. Morgan began developing the comprehensive, cutting-edge philosophy that guides his work today.

In his thriving practice in Hinsdale, Illinois, Dr. Morgan synthesizes the venerable tradition of conservative dentistry, innovative materials, advanced techniques, and digital photography to establish doctor-patient partnerships that achieve life-altering aesthetic goals.

Dr. Morgan’s passion for his practice is matched only by his commitment to assisting other dental health professionals in discovering new products and practical techniques in order to attain exceptional, replicable results. In the ever-changing application and chemistry of adhesive dentistry, Dr. Morgan’s expertise is a beacon of light to audiences who want to stay on the cutting edge of aesthetic dentistry.

Dr. Morgan’s collaborative approach shines through with his engaging multimedia presentations, making him a sought-after speaker for such groups as the Chicago Midwinter Meeting, the California Dental Association, and the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry, as well as other societies and study groups.

➤ As a worldwide speaker

Dr. Morgan has spoken extensively to audiences both in the United States and across the globe in Canada, the Caribbean islands, Japan, the Philippines, Singapore, Russia, and the Ukraine — all while showcasing a universally effective communication style. Throughout, he skillfully reaches and impacts audiences comprised of dental health professionals, businesspeople, and other diverse groups.

Here's what Dr. Morgan's audience members are saying:

"I was very impressed with Dr. Morgan's willingness to showcase a broad variety of cases in his lectures. He offered logical, down-to-earth, realistic suggestions that were relevant and easily implemented in my own practice. My time and money were well spent on his seminars." — Sharon Szeszycki, DDS, General Dentistry

"I've had the opportunity to listen to Dr. Morgan twice – the same lecture – and each time I have been very impressed. The way he handles the audience, the way he makes you understand that conservative dentistry is something that we must cling to ... it is just marvelous. I would recommend that any dentist attend a Michael Morgan lecture, not only for the information, but for the thrill." — Dr. Rolando Nuñez, Venezuela

"Through his images, clinical photos, and presentation, Dr. Morgan can affect a mixed audience of dentists and business people. Dr. Morgan is especially effective on an international stage because his style of lecturing is one that non-native English speakers can easily understand. He's able to adjust his lecture to his audience, he's very objective, and his information speaks to a variety of products." — Michael Cohen, International Sales Manager

"In his presentation to our office, it was clear that Dr. Morgan knows aesthetics. His work with composite dentistry is really world-class. He creates seamless restorations that are indistinguishable from non-restored teeth. He's very much a collaborative, interdisciplinary team player who takes the lead in case planning, which is essential for optimal, prosthetically-driven outcomes." — George Mandelaris, DDS, Periodontist

"Dr. Morgan's passion for cosmetic dentistry is obvious. He enhances his lectures with one-on-one instruction to get his audiences excited about the subject. His case studies are accompanied by his own very professional photography, and it's amazing to see where these patients started and where they end up. I also love his graphics and special effects, which are set to fabulous music. He really keeps you interested!" — Kim Reschke, Dental Assistant of 13 years
